Each room is also equipped with modern fittings and furnishings, international cable and satellite TV channels and online connectivity.

CHAMBERS CLUB

The most public part of the original hotel is now – with the exception of the guest rooms – its most private and exclusive. The Chambers Club was once the entrance hall of the Midland Grand Hotel, and for Victorian ladies and gentlemen, entrances were everything. As a lobby, its breathtaking staircase, archway and ceiling set the stage for the hotel beyond. Today, that grandeur and sense of occasion are reserved for Chambers guests and VIP visitors.
